Cart Logic

updateCart function

The core logic resides in the updateCart() function:

It iterates through the cart array. It dynamically generates html list items to display the product title, price, and quantity. Then it calculates the total sum and total quantity. Then it checks if the total quantity of items is greater than 2. If true, it applies a 10% discount. Then If a discount is applied, the old price is shown with a <s>, and the new price is highlighted in red. The cart counter badge #cartCount is updated.
